Part of the Tusky Valley
Challenge Series

Now Saturday morning!

This scenic road race crosses and runs parallel to Huff Run,
a once severely polluted stream now coming back to life.
Raffles for great prizes will be awarded during tallying.

Run for the Water!

Huff Run Watershed Restoration Partnership

The Huff Run Partnership is an active citizens' group whose mission is to restore the Huff Run Watershed by improving water quality and enhancing wildlife habitat through community support and involvement. The major pollution concern in the watershed is acid mine drainage which is a result of the many abandoned coal mines in the area. The HRWRP has worked with government agencies and other nonprofits to complete 14 major acid mine drainage restoration. Fish are returning to the stream because of these efforts. The HRWRP also conducts many environmental education projects and programs.

Prizes/ Bragging Rights

Medals will be given to overall winners and first, second and third placing racers in each age category. The first fifty participants to register will get a free Huff Run Eco Tote Bag. Age groups include: 14 and under, 15-19, 20s, 30s, 40s, 50s, 60s and 70+ in both male and female categories. All registrants will also be entered into raffles for great door prizes!

Make it a weekend!

Come back on Sunday for the Mineral City Party in the Park. The Huff Run Partnership will be making acid mine drainage tie-dye, teaching kids about rivers and displaying their annual photo contest. Other events include a car show and kiddie tractor pull.

Location and Course

Registration for both races will be held at the Mineral City Park on State Route 800. The start and end of the races is on Grant Street adjacent to the Park. The 5K course is an out and back route that is relatively flat and parallels Huff Run for much of the race. The open course is along State Route 800 to New Cumberland Road and on to Huff Run Road. The Fun Mile (walk, run or jog it!) is along the same route, turning around at the USGS gauge on New Cumberland Road.

Race routes have been measured and certified by the USA Track and Field. Certification code: OH 07027 PR

The Huff Run 5K & Fun Mile is a race in the Tusky Valley Challenge Series.
